

GEORGIA COUNCIL OF COURT ADMINISTRATORS

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

HISTORY AND BACKGROUND

Georgia's courts and government probation departments have been investing in the development of a highly trained, professional team of managers and leaders. In the spring of 2009, the leadership of the Georgia Council of Court Administrators (GCCA) established its certified Georgia Court Manager program to provide leadership skills, knowledge, and performance improvement resources to current and emerging court leaders in Georgia.

The Court Administration Certification program is an opportunity for court professionals to acquire greater professional credentials and to improve their fulfillment of their obligation to the public. This exciting program offers various options for every level of experience and budget resources. Each certificate can be utilized to earn the next level of certification—a building block process—that will lead to more opportunities and enriched judicial environments.

To carry out this expanded mission, the GCCA has entered into a partnership with the National Center for State Courts (NCSC) to adopt Institute for Court Management (ICM) courses so that they can be conducted locally. Upon renewal, GCCA will be signing on to that agreement as a partner organization. The leadership of GCCA has developed a sustainable program model for delivery of the classes within Georgia, using local Georgia faculty to bring national-level training to court management in Georgia. The expanded Georgia Court Manager program will continue to provide the Georgia judicial system with highly qualified and well-trained court managers that are prepared to advance within the field.

It is GCCA's belief that continuing professional and personal development is the essence of professionalism.

INSTITUTE FOR COURT MANAGEMENT'S
CERTIFIED COURT MANAGER PROGRAM
(96 HOURS)

Background:

Until now, Institute for Court Management courses were only taught by ICM's faculty or online. As a CMP Licensee, qualified court staff from Georgia are certified to teach ICM courses locally. Using this licensing system, participants can obtain the first level of ICM certification – Certified Court Manager (CCM).

- ICM is the most trusted, respected provider of continuing education for court professionals.
- ICM's Court Management Program (CPM) courses educate and develop leaders in court administration for today's judicial branch and for the future.
- ICM's courses are based on the National Association for Court Management's (NACM) Core Competencies. A participant manual and faculty guide have been developed for each course.
- A licensing program is the least expensive way to offer ICM courses.
- ICM's courses are preparation for attaining the status of Certified Court Executive and the ICM fellowship program, the highest level of ICM certification.

Eligibility:

Due to the commitment of time and resources, GCCA members who have obtained at least their Certificate of Court Administration (40 hours) and are current on their continuing education hours will be given priority status. Members who do not meet the 40-hour requirement may be allowed to take a course for a nominal fee. Members may also elect to complete courses on their own directly through the Institute for Court Management.

Coursework:

Certification candidates may take course through National Programs, ICM partnerships, the CMP Licensee Program and/or the CMP Consortium. All six of the CCM courses are also available in a distance-learning environment:

- Accountability and Court Performance
- Budget and Fiscal Management
- Caseflow and Workflow Management
- Project Management for Courts
- Purposes and Responsibilities of Courts
- Workforce Management

GCCA may offer up to two (2) courses each year in conjunction with its training conferences or as standalone courses. Depending on funding and availability of spots, a member can join the program at any time.

It is ICM's policy that participants seeking program certification from ICM complete their course of study within a seven (7)-year timeframe.

Cost:

Generally, each attendee must pay a $200 per person fee payable to ICM. The cost is in addition to the regular conference attendance costs. ICM courses are generally $645 for registration, plus the cost of attendance. Depending on grant and/or state funding, GCCA may provide this training at a reduced cost to GCCA members.

Maintenance:

Once the certificate is achieved, there are no continuing education requirements for ICM's CCM.
